

SLIP SEAL CASING HANGERS

The hanger is an automatic suspended-and-seal unit. It utilizes a metal hinge and a simple integral latch pin. It can be wrapped around the casing and lowered through preventers. Upon reaching the bowl in the casing body, it grips and suspends the casing string. The annulus is automatically and effectively sealed upon slack-off. No manual adjustments are necessary before installation or after slack-off. The hanger assures an effective seal, designed to seal with all casing string weights. Excessive packing pressure is relieved, avoiding any possibility of deformed casing when maximum string lengths are suspended. Primary packing should be used with this hanger. Secondary packing may also be used as an added safety feature. Eye bolts are provided for convenience during installation.
